

Rooms Overcrowded At Local School Centre

The first meeting of the Didsbury Home and School Assoc. for the new term took place in the school auditorium on Monday evening with excellent attendance. Mrs. V. Turner, vice-president, had charge of the meeting in the absence of Rev. E. B. Fox, president. Principal E. T. Wiggins introduced the teaching staff, giving the grade they teach and the number of pupils in each room. There are 23 teachers on the staff with a total of 560 pupils. Rooms designed for 23 pupils have from 36 to 39 crowded into them. One of the small schools that had been moved in from the country has been pressed into use due to extreme congestion of space in the main schools. Mrs. Sadie Clarke has 29 grade seven pupils in this building. Mr. Wiggins stressed the fact that facilities are greatly overcrowded and that a building program to extend the new school again faces the school board. He explained in some detail the new book rental system that has been put into operation this term. Used books were purchased for cash from any who cared to sell. Books purchased, he said, must have a life expectancy of at least two years. They were evaluated and paid for on the spot. A total of $1781.40 has been paid out by the school board for these second hand books. Purchase of new books to meet requirements will now be made. Grades one to eight operate as a package deal. All books will be supplied for these grades for a set price. For example, rental on grade eight books will cost $5.75 for a year. High school students can rent one book or all their books. This scheme is available but not compulsory. Students may purchase their own books although very few are likely to do this. The room banner, presented each month to the room which has the highest percentage of parents attending the meeting was won by the grade 12 room for the first time. A medical insurance scheme was outlined to the group by Mr. Geo. McDonald. Under this plan medical and hospital bills would be covered for injuries sustained while children are at school or traveling to and from school on buses. The benefits as outlined are quite extensive and the cost moderate. For example, he pointed out that a public school pupil could have protection for the entire school year for $1.00 and a high school student for $2.00. Lively discussion took place following presentation of the insurance plan and a motion was made that steps be taken immediately to offer it to all parents or their children. It was stressed that acceptance of the plan will be at individual matter for each household. Operation of the scheme is not dependant on a 100% sign-up by the students attending school.

An enjoyable "get acquainted" time was enjoyed following the business meeting. Next meeting is scheduled for Monday, Oct. 7.

Farmer Suffers Serious Injuries

Mr. Arden Deadrick of Didsbury was seriously injured in a farm accident on Friday. Operating a tractor with power take-off driving a swather, he apparently became entangled with the power take-off and lost control of the tractor. The tractor kept moving and Mr. Deadrick suffered multiple injuries and according to reports was found in a ditch where the machine had come to a stop nearby. All the clothing remaining on the injured man after the accident were his boots and stockings. The remainder of his clothes were found wrapped around the drive shaft. He was discovered in an unconscious condition by Mr. W. O. Miller and his son Wilfred, who had been told by Lorne Miller who was swathing nearby that there appeared to be something wrong with a machine in the adjoining field. The injured man was treated in the ditch by Dr. Paul of Didsbury and was later transferred to a Calgary hospital, where he is still recovering in a serious and unconscious condition.

Last Rites For Pioneer Resident

Mr. Lawrence A. Meyer, aged 71, of Didsbury, died at his home last Friday, September 6th. Born in Nebraska, he came to Edmonton in 1912, and moved to Didsbury in 1947, where he resided. He moved to the Didsbury district in 1921.

He is survived by three sons, Glen of Calgary, and Gordon and Neville of Delburne; two daughters, Mrs. Hollis (Fay) Anderson of Calgary and Mrs. Henry (Shirley) Penner of Didsbury; 12 grandchildren; a brother, Fred of Los Angeles; and three sisters, Mrs. A. L. Klein and Mrs. Sarah Nippert, of Carlton, Neb., and Miss Elsie Meyer, a missionary in Austria. Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Monday, in Knox United Church. Interment took place in Didsbury cemetery.

H-Bomb Destruction Is Explained By Civil Defence

The following explanation on the destruction of an H-bomb was given today by William J. Bagnall, civil defence director and reeve of the Municipal District of Mountain View. "Within five miles of a big atomic explosion there is virtually no chance of survival for anyone. There would be little of anything, except a gaping, possibly dangerously radio-active, hole in the earth. There is very little hope of survival for anyone living within a few miles of the spot. One atomic weapon can carry easily the equivalent blast of five to ten million tons of old-style high explosives. If they were in shelters, people within nine to 12 miles of an atomic explosion might survive the blast and heat. The only catch, even for those in shelters, is that nobody knows the exact point where an atomic weapon might hit. The best defence is dispersal. The only way to evacuate the large cities and industrial areas most likely to be target centres in a war is to plan it out in advance. It is because Civil Defence offers a way of making this necessary preparation in advance that Friday, October 4th, has been designated Civil Defence Day in Canada. Citizens must not forget that they need civil defence. In this case, in uneasy times, forgetfulness could cost their lives. Civil Defence planners aim at preparing the nation to disperse all unessential people when political developments deteriorate to the brink of war. This should be capable of completion in eight hours. The final CD phase would be rehabilitation of those who lost their homes. CD workers would try to bring families together and re-establish those with no place to go. But in all these things, the CD plan could work only if all Canadians had learned their part in advance. It would be too late to carry out so large a plan "once the bombs started dropping."

Paving Program On The Move

Road paving, curbing and a proposed town parking lot all came in for discussion at a recent meeting of the Didsbury Town Council.

When the smoke cleared our reporter tells that work will start immediately on the paving and unfinished curbing, and at the moment it's a good guess that the parking lot will come out of the weeds at the same time.

Weather permitting, there will be a lot of busy men on the main thoroughfares for the next few weeks.

Just For The Record . . .

It's too late now, but wouldn't it have been a fine idea to see local service clubs put the finger on recipients of the government dividend with a view to building a swimming pool in these parts. We notice a couple of other centres are working on a deal of this sort and no doubt will be successful. Maybe next time around some plan could be arranged along these lines. 'Twould be putting the money to good use!

Just For The Record . . .

That parking lot idea we spoke of last week seems to have been smiled on nicely by most council members at a recent meeting. Now's the time to get into action; power poles have been moved from the "main stem" to the alley, and curbing is scheduled to start shortly.

Just For The Record . . .

First Didsbury Boy Scout Troop are planning a "Peanut Week" from Sept. 16th to 21st. When the lads call around, meet them with a smile and some jingling stuff. Every peanut sold will aid in the betterment of Scouting facilities for this progressive group of young citizens.

Fear Of Cancer Can Kill - - -

The fear of cancer can be just as deadly as the disease itself, according to Ron Kenyon in the September issue of Canadian Home Journal.

"A study at the University of California has indicated that folk who fret and fidget tend to have cancers that grow slightly faster than those of happy-go-lucky people," reports the Journal. Fear of finding that they have cancer, plus the fear of other people finding out that they have it, prevents many people from going to the doctors. The article tells about one Winnipeg woman who formed a serious neurosis, from fear of cancer. She spent a fortune going the rounds of doctors, the majority of whom told her she had no cancer. She was, however, the easy prey to quacks, who performed "explanatory" operations and billed her for bottles of worthless medicine.

Of the 200 types of cancer, "only the deep-seated ones, which are very difficult to diagnose, have a really poor outlook to-day." Cancer of the breast is cured in 50% of cases, cancer of the cervix in 50% or 60% and cancer of the bowel in about 50%. Cancer of the stomach is the big killer, with chances of survival being one in eighteen. But even the death rate of this dreaded disease has dropped since 1941 from 18.1 people per 100,000 to 14.1 people per 100,000.

Worry Kills. That is why most doctors are careful not to hand out too much frightening information about the disease, and why organizations such as the American Cancer Society and the Canadian Cancer Society try to play down the more terrifying aspects of the disease.

HOW SOON TO THE MOON?

The answer given recently in Ottawa by Dr. John Keyston, vice-chairman of the defence research board: "This century. It is not as far away as some seem to think." He added that the flight would take two weeks.

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD J. FULCHER

Loose housing of dairy cattle is not new, it is being used successfully by many dairymen. The principle of this type of dairy housing and accompanying management is quite different from the conventional stanchion type housing. Cattle are bedded in a large, open, cold area on a dry manure bedding pack. They are moved through a heated area where they are milked and feed concentrate, this is known as the milking parlor. The roughage and silage are self feed in outside bunks or direct from stocks and silos.

Loose housing has many advantages, the initial cost of the building is less, labor requirement when the full program is used is greatly reduced. The cattle are healthier and suffer less injury. The larger portion of the building, loafing area, requires no ventilation, no insulation and no concrete floors, gutters, etc. These features make the barn simple.

The addition section, milking parlor, is more expensive to build per square foot, however, it does not increase the overall barn cost to that of a stanchion type barn. In the milking parlor, sanitation is easy to maintain and efficiency in milking is realized.

There are some disadvantages to this type of dairy housing, more bedding is required, bossy cow problem, and individual cows do not receive special treatment.

When loose housing is used, the herd production will stay high, average production is usually better than under stanchion barns but individual high records seem to lessen.

With this system or any other system of dairying, proper management is the important factor. With a herd of sufficient numbers of productive cows, adequate housing and sufficient good quality feed, a sustained income will be realized from dairying.

Squirrel Cage . . .

SOME ADULTS WONDER TOO !!!

A teacher who had just received her salary, took the money out of the envelope and held it up for the class to see.

"What is this, Teddy Jones?"

"A pay envelope that contains your wages," said Teddy.

"Any questions, children?" asked the teacher.

"Yes, please, teacher," said one little boy with a puzzled frown.

"Where do you work?"

SURPRISE YET !!!

The customer was buying a fountain pen for his son's graduation present.

"It's to be a surprise, I suppose," observed the clerk.

"I'll say it is," the father replied.

"He's expecting a convertible."

By HELEN HOWARD

Hello Homemakers:
School bells are ringing an end to summer holidays and a beginning to a new school term for the youngsters in your family. And for you, mom, school days mean school lunches. I hope you don't dread the thought. The secret of keeping school lunches appetizing is variety in sandwiches. Vary the bread (use whole wheat, enriched, raisin, rye or cracked wheat sometimes), vary the fillings and add pickles, raw vegetables or other extras, to add interest.

Sandwich fillings are always a problem, so here are a few recipes that I hope you find useful:
Bacon and Cheese Sandwich Filling 1/2 cup of cream cheese
6 slices cooked bacon, chopped
3 medium dill pickles, chopped Combine and chill. Makes one cup egg and minced Ham Spread 1/2 cup minced ham
2 hard cooked eggs
1 1/2 teaspoons mustard
2 teaspoons worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons minced onion
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Chopped celery can also be added.

Salmon Spread
1/2 cup salmon
3 tablespoons finely chopped celery
2 teaspoons chopped green pepper or chopped olives or chopped dill pickles
2 tablespoons mayonnaise, salt and pepper
Savory Cheese Sandwich Spread
1/2 cup of butter
1-3 cup sugar
2 tablespoons dry mustard
4 eggs
1/2 cup of vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt Heat vinegar until thick. Remove from flame and add:
1 cup of grated cheese
1 small tin pimento, chopped
8 large shrimps, chopped fine
1 medium onion, diced. Store in refrigerator. Makes 3 1/2 cups.
Try the following combinations:
Peanut butter with bacon; with honey, jam or marmalade; with shredded carrot, apple and salad dressing; with chopped celery, nuts, dates or raisins; with mashed banana.

Holidays Over !!
We took a trip, the wife and me.
With our little daughter Rosemary.
The roads were good, the weather was fine.
And we really had a good time.
Our little old flivver ran like a cup of sugar.
And never once ran out of steam.
We never had to change
a tire.
Or use a yard or two of baling wire.

We went into the province to the east.
To meet some friends and have a feast.
The food was good, the coffee was fine.
We ended up by singing Auld Lang Syne.
At Gull Lake we saw a herd of antelope.
They were grazing upon a southern slope.
The first night away from home we spent
At the hotel, in a town called Swift Current.
We then went on to the town of Moose Jaw.
Where lots of beautiful gardens
we saw.
From there we headed north to Kenaston.
Visited with friends, and had lots of fun.
We came back home the Lethbridge way.
The crops were good, and so was the hay.
We stayed at Clarendon a couple of nights.
And talked with friends until it was getting light.
At High River the hail and rain came down.
And nearly flooded out
the town.
When we got to Calgary 'twas getting dark.
Had a heck of a time to find a place to park.
The sun was slowly sinking in the west.
When we got back to the place
we love best.
Over a lot of country we did roam.
But found nothing like Home
Sweet Home. — E. Coombes

NEW SYSTEM
ANY BETTER?

Alberta's action in abolishing the compulsory vehicle inspection system and instituting a system of spot highway tests by police on and after July 1st is being watched with interest.

This is particularly the case because in the first six months of this year, car accidents and personal injuries were substantially higher than a year ago. The number of deaths, just over the 90 mark, was not slightly changed.

BOARD

NOTES

W. E. SNYDER

Agricultural

Service Board

TREE PLANTING: Some time during the next month, I expect that I will be around to check on the ground that you intend to plant your trees next spring. If you have made application for trees and hope to set them for planting next year it will be to your advantage to see that the plot you have ready has been very thoroughly summer fallowed during the summer so that weeds and grass will have been killed out.

We have been instructed by Agricultural Service Board and the Department of Agriculture to take a careful look at every plot intended for trees next year, to make sure it is ready. In past years there has been some laxity by some people in thoroughly working the ground during the summer fallow year. As a result, weeds and grass have grown along with the trees, making for an unsightly condition.

We are authorized to cancel tree orders if we find that the ground is not in top notch shape.

If you have planted trees in previous years it may be that we will be inspecting these plots, also to see if they are weed-free. I think that a word to the wise is sufficient.

WHOSE WHO ? ? ?

A drunk fell out of a sixth storey window and landed in the street without apparent harm. A crowd gathered around him and a cop rushed up and asked, "What happened?"

"I don't know," said the drunk, brushing himself off. "I just got here myself!"

DISTRICT NEWS

M.V.B.C. NEWS

From Our Own Correspondent

Vacation time always comes to a close and many of those who were away have returned. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eby have returned from Winfield, B.C., where they and the Ira Stauffer's spent a number of days with Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Dedels. Mrs. Lydia Suder spent a week at Radium Hot Springs, accompanied by Miss Lee of Edmonton and Miss Walsh of Calgary. Miss Eby was in Banff for a week with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Eby.

President Taylor has been in Winfield, B.C. over the weekend taking the services of the district superintendent there. Mr. Taylor is vice-president of the Conference of the United Missionary Church and on occasions relieves Mr. Traub of his many duties in this respect. He will be leaving for the east to sit on the Educational Board of the Church this week.

Steam heat is being put into the apartments. These rooms will be occupied this winter.

Mrs. Keueger (Jane Seabrand) and her brother Russell, were campus visitors over the weekend. The latter, who was a student here last year, is now with the United States Army and is taking his basic training.

Mr. Abe Sawatzky was working in the school chapel Friday and Saturday. This room still needs a lot of work done on it and it will keep the alumni members busy to get it finished by the time school opens.

Keith Taylor has enrolled in the kindergarten class again this year. Marilyn Eby is now first-grader and very proud of the fact. Some pears were sent to the school from B.C. again this year. Some friends in B.C. this every year. Other fruit is also expected.

Misses Lois Suder and Marlene Sharman were on campus Sunday. Mrs. Taylor and the children celebrated Mrs. Taylor's birthday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Dedels on Sunday, along with other guests who also had birthdays close together. They were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hunsperger on Friday night when they had a home coming for Mrs. Hunsperger, who had been at the west coast on holiday. Mrs. Hunsperger will be assistant cook again this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ormond Sherick have returned from their honeymoon and are preparing their apartment at the college. In case you have forgotten, Mrs. Sherick is the former Phyllis Traub. Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Neufeld, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard DeWitt and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Stauffer will occupy the other three apartments.

We have not had an extensive garden this year and should you have more vegetables than you need, you will know what to do with them. I am sure.

LIGHT YOUR WAY WITH BIBLE STUDY

A stranger in a town asked the usher at the church door: "When does the service begin?" The usher replied: "When the worship is over." Paul would have answered him: "Be ye doers of the Word, and not hearers only."

Many people are of the opinion that they have fulfilled their Christian duty when they have attended a divine service. Yes, they may even say to the pastor as they leave the church: "We certainly enjoyed the service today." And they mean it. And such remarks also buoy up the spirit of the pastor. But, all too often, that is as far as it goes. The Word heard. "As members of our church we now fulfilled our duty" these people say to themselves.

However, basically, the worship over, the service begins. The Word has been preached. The Word now must be put into action. The individual must ask himself after the service: "What can I do for Christ?"

That must have been the question in the minds of some of the greatest men in the world. They had heard of the love of God Jesus. They now also wanted to serve — the service now began for them. We think of Livingstone, African missionary and explorer. To serve his Master he made two journeys, but the third was too great. Deserted by two servants, medicine chest gone, one of his last entries in the journal was: "I am pale, bloodless, weak from bleeding profusely. . . How I long to be permitted to finish my work."

Someone has coined the phrase: "Saved to serve." Christ saved us to serve. Are you in the ranks of the servers — the doers?

CREMONA NEWS

From Our Own Correspondent

The Sewing Circle held its annual bazaar and tea on Aug. 28th. It was held in aid of the crippled children. Mrs. S. Haley won the Afghan and Mr. S. Muncey the cake.

The Cradle Roll tea was held in the church on Friday, Aug. 30. The program and lunch was arranged by the Sunday school teachers, under the leadership of Mrs. M. Earle and Mrs. Stone and four of the C.O.I.T. girls helped serve.

School was postponed at Cremona because the new school was not ready and the latest report says school will commence on Wednesday, Sept. 11. Mrs. Frizell is teaching grade one, and Mrs. Bennett is to teach grade two. The new classrooms are large and well lighted — so nice that they will encourage our young folk to continue school, we hope.

On Sunday, Sept. 1, Walter Murray, student minister for the summer months at Water Valley and Graham, preached his first sermon in a church at Cremona.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob O'Neil were Saturday visitors at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. D. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Sanderman and Lee Burkholder were Banff visitors last weekend.

The Red and White store are contemplating putting in a dispensary as an added service to its customers. The new owner, Mr. Graham, stated that it would take a while to introduce a stock large enough to fill all prescriptions but that is their future intention. They plan some renovations in the store to make room for the dispensary.

Friends of Mrs. E. Wigg will be pleased to hear that she returned home from hospital on Sept. 7th.

EAST NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Schumaker visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ormond Reiffenstein in Calgary on Friday. Judy and Bobby Marsh are attending school at Acme.

WESTCOTT SENIOR W.I. HOLD REGULAR MEETING

Westcott Sr. W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Helen Baudistel on Thursday, Sept. 5, with 11 members and one visitor present. Roll call was answered by a "Question Box."

It was decided to order a news letter for each member every month from the district home economist.

The group will cater to an auction sale in late October. Citizenship paper was given by Mrs. Harry Levagood on "The Five Frauds To Watch For."

The educational talk was given by Mrs. Claude Shields on "Candy Unlimited."

WEST NOTES

From Our Own Correspondent

Miss Maxine Hoegood of Calgary and Miss Mary Evans of Washington, D.C. are visiting with the former's parents. Mr. and Mrs. P. Hoegood are also present.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hoeg and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hoeg, Kenzie and Alan, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hoeg in Calgary and visited at St. George's Island.

And the hills were hard to climb,

SCARLETT — GULLIOFF

Redeemer Lutheran Church in Didsbury was the scene of a double-ring wedding ceremony on Saturday, August 24, at 2 p.m. when Mary Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gullioff of Watson, Sask., became the bride of Mr. Ralph Mackay Scarlett, of Didsbury. Rev. E. B. Fox officiated.

Entering the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. Albert Lissel, the bride looked charming in a ballerina-length gown of satin and net. The fitted bodice featured a rounded neckline ending in a V in the back and was set off by lily point sleeves. The skirt was hooped and her finger-tip veil was held in place by nylon and pearls. She carried a white Bible, trimmed with red roses. Her only jewellery was a strand of pearls.

Mrs. Albert Lissel, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and wore a royal blue waist-length gown of net, with matching stole. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mr. Albert Brewster attended the groom.

The bride's mother chose a navy dress with white accessories, while the groom's mother wore a light blue suit with matching hat and gloves.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's sister. On their honeymoon the newlyweds visited points in Alberta and Saskatchewan and on their return took up residence in Didsbury.
